E. E. MINSKOFF, P-7, on loan from General Counsel's Office, U. S. Treasury Department, is Assistant to the Deputy Chief of Counsel in the case of the United States against I. G. Farben. In this capacity Mr. Minskoff has responsibility for all types of legal, technical and tactical aspects of the preparation, development, and presentation of the Prosecution's direct case, as well as of the legal, technical and tactical questions involved in the rebuttal of the case for the Defense. As consultant to the Deputy Chief of Counsel, he assists in the formulation of policy and in the planning and carrying out of the general overall strategy in the use and presentation of documentary evidence as well as in the use of live witnesses.

Also he has supervisory responsibility for the examination, analysis, and development of evidence proving the culpability of the I. G. Farben defendants and for the making of final decisions with respect to the relevance, competence, materiality, probative value and legal effect of the documents and interrogations. His functions include participation in the trial itself by conducting direct and redirect examination of prosecution witnesses and the cross-examination of defense witnesses.
