Daily Report 107
14 October 1947

EVIDENCE:

The defense of Weiss was interrupted in order that Jacques Laurent, owner of the Rombach plant could be cross examined on the contents of his affidavit submitte by the prosecution in its case in chief. Dr. Kranzbuehler and Dr.Dix examined the witness at length. There was brief redirect by the prosecution. The entire day was taken up with Laurent's testimony. He repeated certain of the details in his affidavit but the defense was able to bring out his opinion that the management of the Rombach plant had been conducted in such a way that the factory was not unduly damaged during the occupation. The witness admitted that certain new installations had been made during the occupation but testified that most of them were designed for the production of war material and consequently of little use to the plant today, which is engaged in peace time production. The witness also testified that in his few negotiations with Otto Ernst Flick and Roechling he had been treated "correctly".

LAW AND PROCEDURE:

None.
